

“Bringing the science back to the community and bringing traditional knowledge to researchers is very important to me.”

Martin Edwardsen

Arctic Indigenous Traditional Ecological Knowledge (ITEK) Specialist

About Martin:

- Arctic Slope Regional Corporation and an Ukpeaġvik Iñupiat Corporation shareholder.
- Represents the Arctic Region as a member of the North Pacific Research Advisory Panel.
- Raised in Utqiagvik, Alaska.
- Life has revolved around subsistence hunting and his community.
- Active whaler and traditional knowledge holder.
- Served as UIC Science Operations Manager for several years.
- Directly involved in planning Science Days and Science Fairs to connect students with research topics.

Get in touch with Martin for:

- ITEK input on your grant proposals.
- Coordination with community members for community based observation networks.
- ITEK input during your planning phase.
- ITEK input during your stay in Utqiagvik.

Send a query about ITEK

(907) 852-7432